Subject: Your website is costing you bids

Hi [Name],

I was looking at [Company]'s website and noticed a few things that might be hurting your sales — slow load time, no mobile optimization, and no clear call-to-action for customers.

I work with a team that specializes in digital transformation for playground and recreation companies. We have a $125 Digital Snapshot that shows exactly where you're losing money online.

Would it be worth a 10-minute call this week?

Cold Call Script

"Hi, this is [Name]. I work with playground companies on their digital presence. I was looking at your website and honestly — I think it's costing you bids. We do a quick $125 scan that shows exactly where the gaps are. Can I send that over?"

If they push back: "Totally understand. But let me ask — when was the last time you looked at your website on a phone? Most of your customers are."

If they say yes: "Great. I'll send the snapshot link right now. Once you see the report, we'll hop on a quick call to walk through it."

LinkedIn Connect Message

"Hey [Name] — I work with playground companies on digital strategy. I noticed [Company]'s website might be leaving money on the table. Happy to share what I see if you're open to it."

Day 3: Follow-up: 'Just checking if you saw my note — happy to show you what I found.'
